BEHIND SCHEDULE

Westmoor Faces Deadline 'Woes'

Deadline date for completion of the $2.5 million Westmoor High in Westlake is next Monday an the contractor will not be able to deliver.

In a report to the board two weeks ago, contractor Dick Meyer said that at best, the classrooms wil be ready by July 15. He did not estimate when the rest of the project would be finished.

Meyer cited shortage of competent tradesman and difficulty in getting certain materials as reasons for the new delay.

High school trustees, who meet in regular session next Monday evening, not doubt will consider the deadline problem.

Last January, Meyer was granted a 124-day extension of contract after the board agreed that bad weather, labor conditions, et cetera, had put the plant behind schedule. This time, however, the contractor's reasons are not as strong, some trustees believe.

The district, under the Westmoor contract, can invoke a $150 a day penalty clause against Meyer, effective next week. This money would be subtracted from the amount remaining to be paid the builder.

The administration and trustees, however, had not indicated what their course of action would be.

With school out for the summer, fortunately no problem exists involving the students. Installation of new classroom equipment and furniture, though, necessitates that the district have the completed school as soon as possible.

Opening in September, Westmoor will house approximately 1200 students.

Disabled Vet Saved After Suicide Try

A disabled veteran, 34, was saved from an apparent suicide attempt Thursday morning after he took sleeping pills on the beach, two and a half miles south of the Skyline intersection with Coast highway.

Rushed to Junipero Serra hospital by Coast Guard helicopter after he was spotted by Daly City police, Robert C. Nichols, father of three, was given lavage treatment. He later was transferred to Ft. Miley hospital for observation.

Officer Les Bastedo, on morning patrol, discovered Nichols unconscious on the beach at 8:25 a.m. when he made a routine check of a car parked off the highway. In Nichols' car was a note, but its contents were not disclosed by police.

Inspector Bruno Conci, Capt. Roy Beecher and Asst. Chief Roy McLaren moved down the sheer cliff to reach Nichols. Bottles containing the pills were found nearby.

Nichols' wife told police that her husband was troubled by head injuries suffered while he was a prisoner of war at Corregidor. Unemployed and on total disability, Nichols before tried suicide at Palo Alto veterans' hospital, according to his wife.

Extent of the man's injuries was not known because of his unconscious condition, hospital officials reported. Whether he fell or climbed down to the beach was undetermined.

The Town Record

By ROY HURLBERT

Our old San Jose State colleague, MONTE DAYTON, and his missus are fishing for rainbows this week up north. Site of the Dayton headquarters is Trinity County. Might be mentioned that their camp is just a stone's toss away from slayer BURTON ABBOTT'S cabin. This is the place to spend a vacation?

From the rumor mill, we hear that COLOMBO HALL, a Colma landmark, may be condemned as an unsafe building. Wonder what the town fathers think about this possibility? Line forms on the left.

Woman phoned this week to gripe about "disgraceful" city recreation program. It's awful, said she, that her lad and others from older sections of Daly City have to go so far to find suitable baseball diamonds.

Believe us, city fathers and folks from the incorporated areas have done their best to get the most from the least. The problem—just not enough facilities to handle youngsters—is nationwide.

Lions club installation Saturday night at EL RANCHO in Millbrae was a roaring affair. Not one of the members wound up in the spa's deluxe swimming pool. But all the males gave a long gander at the underwater ballet, performed by a living doll from down the road a piece.

MIKE WIEGNER, the mixed-up kid who got more publicity here this year than Jayne Mansfield, would do well to listen to his elders. Meaning state hospital officials who are trying to straighten him out. Juvenile authorities have bent

Elderly DC Woman Loses Handbag To Two Latin Ladies

Two Latin-looking females, about 19 or 20 years old, robbed an elderly Daly City woman of her handbag Thursday night when the latter was walking home from a baby-sitting assignment.

The victim, Mrs. Ora B. Doucette, 68, of 148 San Diego avenue, said the purse-snatchers double parked on Hillcrest drive and approached her "for directions to Sutter street."

While she was answering, one of the young ladies knocked a wattermellon out of Mrs. Doucette's hand and the accomplice grabbed the handbag. The pair then sped off, in an old, beat-up car, which had a paper license attached to its back window, police learned.

Mrs. Doucette said the handbag contained a wallet with $5 and change, keys and several valuable papers.

WOMAN, 26, DENIES SUICIDE ATTEMPT

A 26-year-old Daly City woman who denied she had suicide in mind, was brought out of danger at Junipero Serra hospital Saturday night after she swallowed 14 tranquilizing tablets at her home.

Christine Hamilton, of 6026 Mission street, apartment 1, was transferred to Community hospital for 72-hour observation.

Westlaker Nails SF Cop On 'Extortion' Attempt

A young San Francisco cop was indicted Monday on extortion charges, filed Thursday night by a 34-year-old Westlake salesman after the officer was "trapped" in a rendezvous arranged by SF authorities.

Under fire at press time is Officer Edward Bencik, who the Westlaker claims asked a $250 payoff to "forget about" filing loitering charges against the latter.

Stanley Basterash, married man of 1197 South Mayfair, was parked in Golden Gate park Thursday afternoon when the cop approached. Bastrash alleges that Bencik hinted he might arrest him on a charge "of being an idle and lewd person" for loitering in the park.

Basterash said that when he protested this statement, the officer "suggested that a deal might be arranged."

The salesman told police he agreed on the $250 "price," and firmed a rendezvous for 6 o'clock that evening. Basterash immediately contacted San Francisco police and his attorney.

Chief of Inspectors Daniel McKlem then set the trap. Bencik was taken into custody after the money (a check) for the requested "payoff" changed hands.

WITH SCHOOL out, Daly City police are particularly concerned with mounting traffic accidents. Traffic inspector Henry Sundermann here points to the 178 total to date for 1957, including 67 injuries. Concern is shared by Captain Roy Beecher and the entire force. Last year, 146 persons were injured in 389 traffic accidents here. Two fatalities in 1956, one in a head-on crash and another involving a pedestrian, marred the city's perfect record for the past five years. Sundermann's many traffic charts pinpoint accident frequency by location and extent of damage to persons and property. The above "Toll Board" is kept up to date. Motorists would do well to weigh the power of statistics.

Blum Outlines Strategy; Petition Drive Opens

A shift in emphasis looms today as the city-wide petition campaign against the county's "unfair" property reassessments is in full swing.

Frank Blum, city attorney, clarified the desired "strategy" Wednesday during a study session of the city council. Desiring to restate the protest objectives, following conferences this week with the county assessor, Blum recommended "an expedient course of action."

First Objective

Reasserting the need for a "package" protest via the signatures, Blum emphasized that critical consideration now is the "unfair" reassessment of land in Westlake. Recent reassessments there by the county mean that these residents will be effected on the next tax rolls.

Blum repeated that the local protest must be voiced before the county sits as an equalization board next month to finalize the new tax rolls.

Secondary objective on the protest, Blum pointed out, should be "our challenging the reappraisal method used by the county throughout the north county area." He assured the council that reappraisement of property in the entire Jefferson High School District would not be on the 1957-58 tax rolls.

Need Expert

Again stressing the prime importance of the Westlake assessment protest, Blum declared that it is a complicated matter, and "we'll need an expert to handle the problem."

Blum said that in order to strongly convince the county, the city must have a "qualified" man go over the Westlake reappraisals and compare these with other subdivisions in the county hit by similiar action.

"This will demand an expert and certainly a lot of time," he added.

The council approved Blum's suggestion that Westlake Improvement Association and other community groups pushing the petition movement be invited to Monday's regular council session to "get a clarification on the course to follow."

Speed Signatures

Meanwhile, petition signup centers and door-to-door signature appeals are progressing in seven "districts" designated by the council last week.

WIA has opened three petition centers, with a fourth, located at Town and Country Market in Westlake, to open this Saturday, from noon to 8 p.m. Other WIA petition centers are now staffed at the WIA office, 95 South Mayfair; Doelger Sales Office, West-

Council Eyes Water Tank, Meat Dispute

Hoping they won't come up with another "dud," city councilmen in study session Wednesday night voiced accord on purchase of a second wooden water tank to use as a storage facility while the quake-damaged Westlake reservoir is being repaired.

The 50,000 gallon redwood tank, replacing the temporary wine cistern that flopped, is being offered at a "desirable" low bid of $11,981. Five alternate bids, calling for either steel or wooden tanks, were submitted for council consideration. Final action is scheduled Monday.

Steel Tank

One bid on a steel tank amounted to more than $18,000, but councilmen generally agreed that the wooden type would be more practical, everything considered.

Otis Calhoun, public works director, and City Manager Howard Stites assured councilmen that guarantees on the recommended bid as offered by Santa Fe Tank Division Fluor Products company appear sound. Councilmen Sanford Vickers, Paul Hupf, Del Wilson and Micheal DeBernardi, however, peppered the two officials with questions on tank testing, installation and location. Delivery on the Santa Fe tank would be approximately 35 days.

Councilmen Monday also will set date of public hearing on protests to rescind the city ordinance which holds sale of fresh meats on weekdays to a 6 p.m. deadline.

Letters to the council asking that the city keep the ordinance (No. 162) were received from the San Francisco Meat Institute, an association, and the Retail Poultry and Fish Dealers' association.

McKeons Settle Long Partition Suit, Proceed On 1280-Home Subdivision

Held back 14 months by a grueling partition suit, Zita Corporation this week resumed work on the St. Francis Heights subdivision, 135 acres which will house some 1280 new homes West of Junipero Serra boulevard.

The partition suit, involving builder Michael Callan, was settled last week with Callan awarded his requested 21 acres. Callan halted Zita development on the subdivision nine months ago with a court-issued restraining order.

Full Speed

Chris McKeon, eldest member of the Zita corporation, told THE RECORD, "We're going full speed to make up for lost time."

Zita engineers this week are pouring over maps and surveying prior to bringing in heavy equipment crews again.

The subdivision's original acreage of 335 has been reduced to 135 for homes, following disposition of certain portions to Henry Doelger, Callan, Jefferson Elementary school district for three 10-acre schools, and the city of Daly City for at least three parks and recreation sites.

McKeon's original plans were for 2500 homes within the subdivision. The revised projection for 1280 dwellings call for homes in the $15,000-plus price range.

Three Schools

After much stormy dispute, agreement was reached last week between the Zita corporation and the school district for three 10-acre school sites within the subdivision.

McKeon told trustees he would provide the sites for two K-6 schools and the M. Pauline Brown elementary. The latter, under condemnation at present,

DRUNK DRIVING CHARGE AGAINST SCHOOL TEACHER

A "swaying" school teacher from Lompoc, California, was arrested on suspicion of drunk driving early Wednesday morning in Westlake after he tried to park his vehicle in a "non-existent" parking space.

Officer Phil LaBruzzo booked Daniel C. Hutton, 35, at the corner of Lynnewood and Belmar avenues.

The policeman first noticed Hutton's "erratic" procedure on Glenwood drive. The teacher's car continually swayed from one side of the street to the other, LaBruzzo said.

Hutton failed a sobriety check at Junipero Serra hospital. He was released on $1000 bond to appear before Judge Thomas Bocci Jr. in municipal court next Thursday.

Ben Franklin School

JESD GRANTED FUNDS TO ADD CLASSROOMS

The State Allocations Board last week granted a lump $404,431 to Jefferson Elementary school district for the construction of seven additional classrooms and a music room at Benjamin Franklin school.

The outlay also includes funds for purchase of 1.9 acres adjoining the site, which will be necessary under state formula in order to provide reasonable access for students to and from the new additions.

The 1.9 acres includes a part of the Ocean Shore right of way property and four homes on Stewart avenue.

According to Superintendent H. Z. Weibel, the additional classrooms are required to accomodate an expected 264 children. Without the extra 1.9 acres, the project would be inadequate as far as the state is concerned, he indicated.

Weibel learned Thursday in Sacramento, during a conference with State School Planning officials, that the district will be unable to build a school on the Westlake Park property, since the district does not have title to the same.

The state, however, suggested that the park facilities might be used by the district if a 99-year lease could be worked out between the city and the school district, Weibel reported.

The JESD board and several representative civic organizations will mull the Westlake Basin and Westlake Park matters in a meeting with the city council on June 27.

Cops Investigate Mystery Theft Of Payroll Checks

Police still are investigating today the grand theft Monday night of $576 in payroll checks from the safe of the Daly City Car Wash, 2425 Junipero Serra boulevard.

Harold Kenner, service manager, discovered the checks missing Tuesday morning, but police found no signs of forced entry to the office or the floor safe. In fact, the safe was locked Tuesday morning.

Nothing else in the office was disturbed, according to the report.

A warrant was issued today for one of the firm's former employees.

TRUSTEES OKAY RECORD JUHS PRELIM BUDGET

Trustees Saturday morning approved the second draft of a preliminary budget of $2,265, 864 for the Jefferson Union High school district for the school year of 1957-58.

The record budget, approximately $424,000 over the 1956-57 figure, must be filed with the county for review on July 1. Additional revisions can be made by trustees, but the current figure probably will stand.

The $2,265,864 total includes a $912,979 "carryover" from the current budget, thus the 1957-58 size isn't as large as it appears. The carryover resulted from an overprojection by the district last year due to uncertainty of the recent bond issue.

Under the projected budget, the district will stay on the current tax rate, as voters had been promised.

Trustees Saturday also authorized the sale of $1,450,000 in bonds from the recently passed $2,900,000 issue. To be sold in about 60 days, the bonds will bring the district up to 100 per cent of its bonded capacity, making it eligible for portions of the $8 million state aid, approved at the polls on May 17.

As of last week, the district had let contracts for approximately two-thirds of new fur-

FIREMEN BUSY DURING POWER FAILURE HERE

Daly City fire department was flooded with "hurry-up" calls to action Tuesday morning during the brief Peninsula-wide electric power failure.

Hardest hit locally was the Mission Bell Chateau, where damage was estimated at $500. A refrigerator motor unit, under the bar, caught fire, engulfing the premises in smoke. Dan Claussen, Chateau proprietor, received oxygen treatment for smoke inhalation, according to Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy.

Other emergency calls attended to concerned furnace motors, several refrigerators, clothes dryers and one clock radio, Kennedy added.

PG&E officials at the substation in San Mateo, where the interruption took place, said accumulated dust on an insulator was responsible. This dust caused electricity to "leak" over the surface of the insulator, resulting in a "flash-over" on a 110,000 volt bar.

CAR QUITS CURB, BATTERS HYDRANT, HOME: KIDS LIKE

A woman's failure to lock her carbrakes gave several Daly City children a welcome shower Monday morning during the heat wave.

The four-door sedan, owned by Fidelina Melendez, 285 Acton, rolled from the curb in front of 260 Acton, knocked over a fire hydrant and rammed into the home of Mrs. Vertude Hall, 175 Acton.

The kiddies romped through the gushing water until city workers arrived to mend the damage.

Mrs. Melendez was cited for failing to park the car properly, police said.

niture and equipment for Jefferson and Westmoor.

Trustees last week moved to re-advertise for bids on two new school buses, needed to meet heavier enrollment. The district currently has 10 buses. With the opening of Westmoor in September, 12 will be required.

A mixup between a private bus operator and an East Bay school bus company, plus hesitancy by trustees on the desirable size and passenger-capacity of the vehicles, prompted the resolution for new bids.

The administration also is investigating "common use" of buses with local school districts and the feasibility of letting a private firm handle the bus operation. On the latter point, however, both the board and administration feel that the costs would be excessive.

"We want to probe every aspect in order to get what we need for the fairest price in view of our financial situation," commented Edward Morgan, district superintendent.

tions bearing signatures of 3139 citizens for repeal of the ordinance were studied by the council. Petitioners state that "modern refrigeration" makes the ordinance "obsolete" and the 6 p.m. deadline and Sunday prohibition is "unfair" to the working public.

Acting mayor Vickers urged full attention to the matter, although declaring that the ordinance "protects the small independent markets, and after all, we owe them some consideration."

Wilson stated that because of the ordinance "many Daly City people have to go outside the city after 6 p.m. to purchase fresh meat."

Other matters studied in Wednesday's informal meeting included:

1. Analysis of bids on the ½ ton truck for multi-purpose use, particularly for painting of lighting and electrical standards. Also feasibility of hiring private concern to handle painting project, depending on "economy" situation.

2. Re-zoning of new Doelger unit adjacent to Skyline to C-2 from unclassified status.

3. Cost of repairing sidewalks and curbs on Hillcrest drive in conjunction with city resurfacing of said areas. Citizens will be notified soon and urged to make repairs before resurfacing begins.

4. Investigation of state department of motor vehicle's 90-day suspension of license against Anthony D'Aquisto of Suburban Motors.

5. Requests of Tromborg Plumbing and Lucier's for reinstallation of parking meters in front of their establishments. Meters in this area were installed on a 90-day "trial" basis to determine the effects of traffic congestion.

St. Martin's Will Ask Loan To Aid Church Building

Preparation of a financial statement indicating ability to repay a building loan was the subject of Monday evening's meeting of St. Martin's Episcopal church building finance committee. Under leadership of the Rev. Allen J. Downey, vicar, the group consisting of Westlake residents Frank Blum, chairman, Hubert Arthur, Glenhall Taylor, and Joseph Bonavito, will now request Karl Morgan Block, bishop of the diocese of California, to negotiate a loan so that construction may begin this summer at the church site, Southgate avenue and Bradley drive.

Approximately $30,000 has been raised for the building to date by the congregation, which will celebrate its second anniversary next month. Bishop Block, who has jurisdiction over its finances until it becomes entirely self-supporting, held the dedication service in the vicarage, 94 Palmdale avenue, on July 24, 1955, and services were held in that location for over a year.

Presently, Westlake auditorium, 333 Park Plaza drive, houses the services at 8, 9:30, and 11 a.m. each Sunday. The new building, consisting of an auditorium seating 300, with an undercroft containing eight classrooms, is expected to be ready for occupancy by Christmas this year.

Nab 'Hungry' Lad For Icebox Raid

A nine-year-old Benjamin Franklin fourth grader was taken to Hillcrest Juvenile Home Sunday after he admitted breaking into a home at 271 Knowles avenue and raiding the icebox.

The delinquent, who lives with his grandparents here because his folks are separated, was picked up in the neighborhood a few minutes after Eugene Arment, whose house was invaded, discovered the "emptied" ice box.

The youth told officers he devoured all the stolen items. These included two cartons of milk, four cans of beer, two cokes, a bag of figs, a pack of cereal and a loaf of bread. He also took a music-making toy from the Arment bedroom.

The waif entered the home by reaching through a hole in the front window, police said.

His grandparents, one in the merchant marine and the other a nurse, suggested the Hillcrest move because they didn't have the time to watch the boy, they told officers.

Escapist Wiegner Finally Is Ready To Face The Music

Young Mike Wiegner, two-time escapist from Napa State Hospital, this week announced that he was "going straight and I'm ready to face the music."

The unpredictable husband of Clo Ann Mowatt made the statement to California Youth Authority officials, who are precessing him after his capture in San Francisco last week.

Mike was nabbed outside his father's home, hiding in some nearby weeds. His parents denied that they had seen him during his latest escapade.

Declared officially "sane" by authorities at Atascadero State Hospital two months ago, Wiegner probably won't have to stand trial on the kidnap episode charges.

Date of his permanent reunion with Clo Ann, however, depends on his behavior hereafter, a CYA spokesman indicated.

19 BRISBANERS PETITION SSF ON ANNEXATION

Brisbane's latest annexation inquiry—this time to South San Francisco — was quietly considered Monday night by the South San Francisco city council.

Presented was a petition bearing signatures of 19 members of the Brisbane Home Owners' association. Councilman Emilio Cortesi hinted that many more Brisbane signatures would be needed before his municipality could consider the annexation request serious.

Mayor Guido Rozzi reminded that the petition asked that South San Francisco first issue a statement of "welcome." He also said that the petition stipulated that many more Brisbane signatures could be obtained.

Baby Shower Fetes Ex-Marine Officer

Westlake's Mrs. Richard Coltrell, 90 Forest Grove drive, was the recipient of a surprise baby shower Saturday at the home of Marine Captain Anne S. Ritter, 750 Gonzales in Parkmerced.

Mrs. Coltrell, a former marine officer herself is married to a Jefferson High school teacher. The 15 guests were from the Westlake-Parkmerced areas.

DC Motorist Is 'Clobbered' In Parking Dispute

A 22-year-old Daly City man, allegedly "clobbered" Tuesday night by a San Franciscan in a row over a parking space, today is scheduled to file assault and battery charges with the district attorney's office.

Treated for a broken nose and bruises at Junipero Serra hospital was Andrew Uranich, 245 Hillcrest drive. A construction manager, he claims he was battered by William Behnken, a husky gent who lives at 227 Rio Verde street.

According to Uranich, he was preparing to back into a parking space in front of Boats Inc., 1855 Junipero Serra boulevard, when the dispute arose. Uranich said Behnken pulled up behind him, tooted his horn, and shouted "park in the next block."

Answering that he was there first, Uranich held his ground. Then, according to the Daly City man, Behnken stormed out of his car, grabbed Uranich's arm, and proceeded to punch him in the nose and eye.

Behnken, police said, sped off. He reported to headquarters for questioning after police traced his license number.

Cop Quickly Close Missing Leg Caper

Daly City police were stunned Tuesday morning when a Westlake housewife frantically phoned that someone had taken a leg from her back yard.

Mrs. George Riba, 30, of 175 Wilshire avenue, clarified that the missing leg was off the corner of her portable swimming pool.

Police searched the yard but could not locate the missing stem. That evening, however, Mrs. Riba called to clear up the mystery. She found the leg in a remote section of the yard.

Someone, presumably a juvenile, carted the pool around the back yard just for the sake of devilment.

Officers gladly termed the "leg mystery" closed.

Library, Parks Need Additional Summer Helpers

Friends of the Library today sounded a "desperate call' for women volunteers to help the city library staff with its Summer Reading Program and the city recreation department with its Storytelling Program for youngsters.

"We have excellent librarians and playground directors," said Mrs. Ramon Gomez, FOL project chairman. "But we need more volunteers to help meet the heavy load of children for both activities."

Women interested in donating a few hours a week to these causes should immediately call Mrs. Gomez, PL 5-3417, or Mrs. Del Wilson, PL 5-4177 and PL 5-1122.

"Women willing to read stories to children for an hour a week will be welcomed by our librarians," continued Mrs. Gomez. "These volunteers also can help by hearing children's oral book reports."

Women with children are urged to bring them along, she concluded.

New assistant police chief, ROY McLAREN, is a well-qualified lawman, considering he's a mere 29 years old. Bookwise, he majored in penology at USC, then spent 18 months at UC working on his master's. He also performed for the Berkeley police force, considered one of the nation's best.

More food for thought in Westlake Basin school site controversy: Reader points out that according to ROBERT KIRKWOOD, state controller, it costs $360 to educate each child one year. Proposed Dominican College would house 1200 a students a year. This means an annual savings for local taxpayers of $436,000, since parochial schools are tax free. Over a four-year period, to go further, the saving would amount to $1,800,000.

Marcus P. Manson of 119 East Moltke Street, a teacher at Jefferson Union High School, is among 200 high school teachers from all over the nation attending a two-month "Summer Institute for Teachers of Science" on the Berkeley campus of the University of California, June 17 to August 9.

The Institute is presented by University of California Extension with a grant provided by the National Science Foundation. It is part of a nationwide program to develop the scientific manpower potential of America by giving science teachers new information in their field and by developing new teaching techniques for stimulating student interest in science.

The program includes intensive instruction in physics, chemistry, the biological sciences and in mathematics as it is applied to each of these fields. Distinguished scientists and members of the University of California faculty will teach the courses and present lectures dealing with their particular fields.

KcKeons Settle Suit, Resume Subdivision Work will be sold to the district for $11,000 under McKeon's appraisal price, he informed the board.

Before the compromise was firmed last week, the district, by recommendation of engineer Julius Castelan, sought 68 instead of 30 acres for sites within the subdivision. Included in the district's request were the K-6 schools, M. Pauline Brown and an intermediate school.

McKeon, however, got the board to consider moving the intermediate school outside his subdivision, south of the St. Francis Heights area. This came after the developer charged that the JESD was taking "too much of our usable acreage, making it impractical for us to build."

Zita Corporation, under the new agreement with the school district, soon will present trustees with its recommendations on the three school sites, consistent with the builders' grading, street layout, sewage and other plans.

BASIN CONTROVERSY IS HEALTHY

Despite the tumult and shouting at the last two Jefferson Elementary school board meetings, a healthy situation exists in the feuding over the trustees' move to condemn the controversial 18-acre Westlake Basin site.

At least the people are airing their views—as they should—and trustees, duly elected by the citizenry and responsible to them—are becoming more aware of their exact role in the schools picture.

Duties of school trustees are clearly defined. They need not be professional people to handle the job. But they must take a professional and level-headed approach to all board problems—free from prejudice, private interest and political aspirations.

After all, the favorite bromide used by one trustee, "We've got a job to do," shakily pinpoints the desired objectives. But again, generalizations do not provide solutions to problems. They merely confuse them.

We do not question the integrity of any member of the elementary school board. Any irregular motives, however, should be divorced from the role trustees pledged to fulfill when elected to office.

School boards are not designed to be political sounding platforms or centers for private business negotiations. Once these aspects are evident, reshuffling by the people is in order.

The administration, consisting of professional educators, cannot fully transfer the blame to the board of trustees. Likewise, credit, where credit is due, should be shared by both. In actuality, the board acts as a balance to the administration in the business of running our schools.

The Basin case has brought the status of elementary school trustees in full public view—as never before.

Public participation at school board meetings, overwhelming the past month, is good for the system. A sustained interest, however, still remains the principal obligation of the public.

Trustees and administrators are faced with a thankless but dedicated task. The more the public appreciates their problems, the better will be the understanding of the issues.

All sides stand to benefit from mass participation. Responsibility is mutual. And a letdown by any element in meeting this responsibility will be felt by the youngsters—who deserve the best we can provide.

A MATTER OF COMMUNITY PRIDE

For a community of 35,000 residents, Daly City certainly rates at the bottom of the list for civic pride in accomplishments.

This lag again came to light recently in the turnouts for the Miss Daly City competition and the recreation department's first outdoor concert of the summer.

The chamber of commerce's third annual beauty contest at War Memorial attracted 35 persons, including the five contestants.

The free concert, at Westlake park, brought a "throng" of 50 people. Among these were members of Daly City's fine municipal band.

It appears that Daly City, anxious to assert its weight on political matters, apparently is content to let cultural and social pursuits go to the dogs.

Perhaps promotion and publicity are factors that need improvement. But we do feel that the people in this city should assert more pride in community-wide projects.

To date, other small cities on the peninsula consistently show much more enthusiasm in extracurricular affairs. Full participation in the city's cultural programs, though few, can do much to keep this community on the proverbial map.

AAA Scores Efforts To Add More Mileage Of Interstate System

The proposed increase of 7,000 miles in the 41,000-mile Nation System of Interstate and Defense Highways has been condemned by the American Automobile Association, reports the California State Automobile Association.

The proposal voted by the Senate Subcommittee on Public Roads to length the Interhighway system to 48,000 miles would confuse and delay action on the approved $33 billion Federal highway building program, according to the AAA motorists' organization.

Some road experts put the additional cost to add 7,000 miles to the system at $16 billion, which would make the grand total in Federal expense some $50 billion. Congress would also have to decide whether to increase gasoline and other highway-user taxes, or stretch the program over 25 years.

"Increasing the mileage allowance of the Interstate System before any of it has been constructed will also result in a scramble among states to get a part of the additional mileage," the AAA said.

Used Postage Stamps Needed For Veterans

Cancelled postage stamps, both foreign and domestic, are needed by the United Voluntary Services Stamp Club for Hospitalized Veterans.

The activity is directed by Mrs. W. Lansing Rothschild, 1990 Eighth avenue, San Francisco. She contacts veterans' hospitals on the Pacific Coast with the objective of supplying incapacitated vets with stamps for their collections.

Persons having foreign and U.S. stamps should contact Mrs. Rothschild by mail.

Outdoor Concert Attracts Only 50

A paltry "crowd" of 50 people gathered Sunday for the city's first outdoor band concert of the summer season at Westlake park.

Dee Van Nest, city director of parks and recreation, was considerably disappointed by the turnout on the sunny afternoon. The concert kicked off the community's summer recreation program.

The Daly City municipal band, under the direction of George Brenner, breezed through several fine selections, including numbers from "My Fair Lady."

Seating was availtble for at least 300 persons, Van Nest reported. "Our plans for future concerts hinge on the response shown," Van Nest stated. "Sunday's attendance wasn't enough to give us cause for optimism."

Letters To The Editor

Mrs. Marchbanks Cited For Success Of OLM Festival

Dear Mrs. Marchbanks:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for your very splendid help and cooperation on our recent festival. Certainly the publicity we received from the Westlake Times and The Record played a major role in making our festival a success. From the comments we received, in particular on the two full-page ads in the Westlake Times, we know this had a tremendous effect on the results that were achieved.

As you know, the festival was the first undertaking of anything of this nature for the Westlake Catholic Men's and Women's organizations, so quite naturally we were somewhat dubious as to just what to expect. It was the feeling of the executive committee that we initiate a four-day festival, the first in the history of the archdiocese. This proved to be a financial success because of the staggering crowds we experienced during those four days.

We feel that the attendance was due mainly to you, Mrs. Marchmanks, and the help and cooperation of your staff. I would like to mention that Mrs. Jane Keith was more than helpful, and certainly aided us in laying out a proper publicity campaign.

Again, may I express my personal appreciation and the appreciation of the entire festival committee.

Brisbane Reports On Meetings Held 'One-Sided'

Dear Editor:

How come these items concerning the meetings of the Brisbane Home Owners association in Brisbane are so one sided these days?

It mentioned the fact that Mr. Fifield tried to recall Mr. Coffey and Mr. With because they were backing the school tax issue (wait until we get our tax bills in November) but did not mention that Mr. Coffey tried to do the same thing to us because as MEMBERS of the Home Owners association, we were backing Steve Rewak. I do not think either accusation had too much grounds because I had discussed this matter with an attorney when we went to see him on another matter. I think that the most serious part of this school tax campaign was that the school workers were using our children to do the dirty work. Such as offering them ice cream to wear buttons sponsoring the issue. This sort of campaign does nothing but create hatred and contempt in the hearts of our children, then after the election is over, the kids think of it as a game and continue to break windows, and vandalize property, etc. Or is it kids that are doing this sort of thing? Maybe not!

Those of us that were opposed to the issue could have used our kids too, but that would have done nothing but get the kids fighting so we didn't even discuss this in front of our children. Many people were wondering why we did not put up signs like the other side. We put them up alright but they were torn down right away. Well anyhow we fought honestly, and did not slip through any knot holes to win.

People were even being brought in from Bayshore city to vote on the school tax issue. Of course this was all legal as our school district extends over the hill and takes in most of that government housing project.

I do not think that the people of Brisbane zone, had they looked into this issue themselves individually, would have gone for the issue. Of course it was to the teachers' benefit to push it through, as they all got a raise, which was not part of their campaign issue. If the teachers needed a raise, why all the fuss about additional rooms as an issue?

We attended a meeting in South San Francisco of the California Teachers association, ethics committee, and felt right at home.

'LIBRARY FRIENDS' PRAISE PUBLICITY

Dear Mr. Bradshaw:

The Friends of the Library have recently completed their first full year. In addition to presenting several worthwhile programs and conducting a book drive which added many valuable books to the shelves of the Daly City Library, the Friends of the Library are happy to announce that two language records will be presented to the Daly City Library for circulation throughout the area.

We feel that our first year has been a success, and we are aware that much of this success is due to the editor and staff of Marchbanks Publications, whose generosity in the matter of space materially aided the growth of our organization.

As it has not yet been decided which languages would be of most value, an expression of public opinion to the paper or to the library would be most welcome.

Sincerely,
LEONORE BREWER

Two For Tonight

By Leonore Brewer

A couple of decades ago Noel Coward, English playwright noted for his witty and sophisticated comedies, whipped up a light bit of nothing which he titled "Fallen Angels" before sending it out to make its way in the world. We fancy it found the world indifferent.

Reading the play, you would wonder why anyone would gamble on reviving so anemic an offering, but its stars, Hermione Gingold and Mary McCarty, act on it like a massive shot of B-12. Watching this pair cavorting around the Alcazar stage, you think what a lucky fellow that Coward is, to have his uninspired lines delivered with such zest.

Virtue Triumphs

There will be those who fear that the title implies something naughty. These we must reassure. There will be others who will await forbidden delights with slavering anticipation. These we must disillusion. Actually, the title is a misnomer. They aren't fallen angels; they just slipped a bit. In the end virtue, in spite of their efforts, triumphs.

As the play opens A. E. Gould-Porter and Gordon Mills are leaving for a weekend of golf, leaving their respective wives Jane and Julia (Hermione Gingold and Mary McCarty) to their own devices. They are truthful, honorable, devoted wives and have been so for five years, but each cherishes the memory of a golden idyl spent with a dashing Frenchman (Bruce Kay) prior to marriage.

Miss Gingold enters, packed for Brighton. She has received a postcard from you know whom, and is fleeing temptation. When Miss McCarthy receives her postcard, they decide to flee together, but reason prevails over panic and in an hilarious second act they await their Gallic past, fortifying themselves with martinies topped off with champagne.

Utter Joy

It is utterly impossible for us to communicate to you the utter joy we find in Miss Gingold's style of comedy. It has to be experienced. Mary McCarty makes a wonderfful foil and there's a maid (Patricia O'Callaghn), a superior type of domestic help totally unavailable today, but in the end it's Miss Gingold's show and that's your good fortune.

The males are rather poor sticks. Gordon Mills isn't much more than passable and A. E. Gould-Porter little better. And Bruce Kay provided little competition for even this lack-luster pair.

The Alcazar Theater orchestra plays a number of selections during intermissions. We thought Oscar Straus' La Ronde Theme particularly well chosen.

MACHINIST HAS 'DOUBLE LINE' WOES: ARRESTED

James H. Barrington, 36, a San Francisco machinist, crossed over the double line on Mission street too many times Monday morning and got himself arrested for drunk driving.

Barrington was flagged down at the corner of Theta and Santa Barbara. Arresting officer said that at one point in the "weaving" chase, the machinist's car struck the curb in trying to negotiate a right-hand turn.

Barrington was "considerably uncooperative and abusive to officers" when brought to the station for sobriety testing and booking, the report stated.

Judge Thomas Bocci Jr. set bail at $500 cash or bond.

W'lake Woman's Dad Is Rewarded For Federal Duty

William J. Sharp, father of Mrs. L. R. McDonnell, 170 Wilshire avenue, last week received a certificate of merit and a pin for 40 years of service with the U.S. Armed Forces in a civilian capacity.

Sharp, of San Francisco, in the chief administrative office in the South Pacific Army Engineers Division, was honored by Brig. Gen. William F. Cassidy of the South Pacific division.

Born in 1896, Sharp in 1954 was chosen "Staff Man of the Year" from among 90,000 federal civilian employees in the Bay Area, and in 1955 was chosen chairman of the committee to pick his successor. He started his federal duty in 1916 at Fort Sam Houston in Texas.

Sharp, assigned to San Francisco since 1936, has three grandchildren at the Wilshire address. They are Lori, Eileen and Clare.

The feted gentleman has "no plans at present for retirement."

Veterans News

by Grace J. Hill

It is surprising to view the number of new cases in which veterans or their widows, completely out of touch with veterans affairs, have suffered tragic loss of benefits, usually when most needed. Such veterans usually have not joined a veterans' organization, don't get the constant flow of information which may vitally affect their welfare, and often have sacrificed their rights by attenmpting to process their own claims with the VA without using (or even knowing of the existence) of the expert, free representation available to them through service officers.

Many veterans benefits are applicable, especially when tragedy strikes, but rights to such benefits sometimes have to be established long before such calamity. Thousands of veterans, well off and in good health, ignore their status as veterans until too late. Establishing membership in one of the veterans' organizations is the best and safest way to assure themselves of these benefits.

SSF School Chief Is Fired By 3-2 Vote Of Trustees

By 3-2 vote of trustees, James C. Cherry was fired Tuesday night as superintendent of South San Francisco Unified school district.

The majority of the school board refused Cherry's request for a 30-day delay so that he could prepare an answer to the California Teachers' Association ethics committee report. The report suggested that both Cherry and trustees resign.

Trustee John Oberst, himself the target of a recall movement, made the motion to immediately terminate Cherry's contract. The superintendent's term of office expires this December.

A. J. Siampini, Cherry's attorney, branded the firing move as "a railroad job."

Cherry asked that the question of his continued employment by the district be voted upon at a special tax election next Tuesday. This was posed in a letter from his attorney blasting the board for the ouster resolution.

Approximately 300 teachers and citizens attended the heated session.

11 DC Reservists End Navy Course At Treasure Isle

Eleven residents of Daly City last week completed a training course in the Naval Reserve Officers School at Treasure Island.

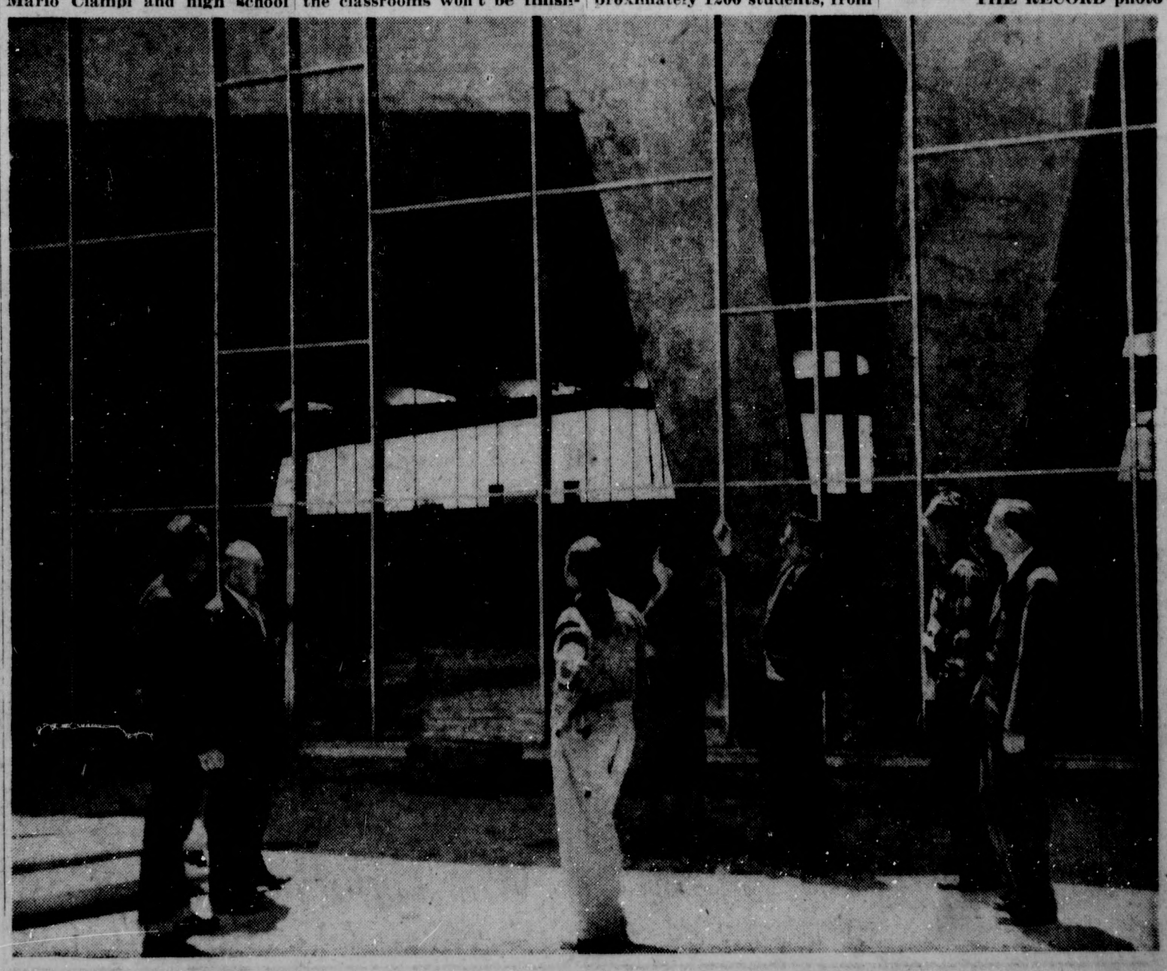
They are: Frank B. Barrows, 563 Niantic, teacher at Jefferson Union High School and a lieutenant in the naval reserve; Shelly A. Byers, 57 Lakewood drive, professional service for a San Francisco laboratory a lieutenant (junior grade); Ben Cardinalli, 70 Oaklawn drive, apartment 23, teacher for the unified school district in San Francisco and a lieutenant; Sanford I. Heisler, 1209 South Mayfair avenue, engineer and a lieutenant.

John A. Kavanagh, 81 Crectwood drive, attorney and a lieutenant; William E. Maccoun, Jr., naval architect and a lieutenant commander; Stanley J. Stemdahl, 78 Westdale avenue, marine superintendent and a lieutenant commander; Ira B. Stout, 5 Fleetwood drive, safety engineer and a lieutenant commander; Edward J. Stuber, 168 Fairlawn avenue, contracting engineer and a lieutenant commander, Jack W. Thiesen, 125 Hillside boulevard, casual labor office manager for the state of California and a lieutenant; Ada M. Wood, 96 Wilshire avenue, dean of girls, Jefferson High and a lieutenant commander.

The officers undertook technical training in the evening naval school to keep abreast of new developments in the Navy, met requirements for promotion, and maintained their naval reserve commissions in active status.

The Treasure Island school is one of almost 100 naval officers schools throughout the United States that provide professional training to naval reserve officers not on active duty.

The school, which offers instruction in a variety of naval subjects, will resume instruction in September.



BEHIND-schedule gymnasiums at Westmoor High in outer Westlake were given another inspection Saturday by Superintendent Ed Morgan, architect Mario Ciampi and high school trustees. Entire plant was scheduled to be ready for the district next Monday under a 124-day extension of contract. But the contractors now say the classrooms won't be finished until July 15, with the whole project completed probably in August. The district can invoke the $150 a day penalty clause against the contractor. Approximately 1200 students, from west of Junipero Serra and the Coastside, will attend the school this fall.

TRADITIONAL cake cutting is performed by Joan Blauert and Leonard Preader following recent nuptials at Vista Grande Avenue Christian church. The couple honeymooned in Reno. The bride is from Redwood City. Leonard's folks reside on Willits street here.

Miss Joan Blauert Weds Leonard Preader

Leonard Arnold Preader of Daly City recently took as his bride Miss Joan Blauert of Redwood City, in a nuptial exchange at Vista Grande Avenue Christian church. The Rev. Richard Friedline officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The couple took a three-day trip to Reno for a honeymoon. They are making their home in Daly City.

The bride, a junior in high school, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blauert, 1265 Carson street. The benedict was graduated from Sequoia High in 1955. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Scott, 51 Willits street.

Joan's bridal costume was a waltz-length, white satin dress, with empire waist and a v-neck lace bodice. She carried a bouquet of white orchids surrounded by white rose buds and white gardenias. Her fingertip veil was accentuated by a small pearl crown.

Miss Terry McCall was maid of honor. Best man duties were performed by Malcolm Preader, brother of the groom.

TV and Radio

From Paris, France

By train to Venice . . . a moonlight gondola ride along the Grand Canal climaxed with an eclipse of the moon . . . on to that fabulous city, Rome, where towering modern apartment buildings cast a shadow over ancient ruins . . . on to Nice and the fashionable Rivera which reminded us so much of the Monterey Peninsula . . . and now exotic Paris.

Many times at home as we turned on our radio we would hear . . . "This is your NBC correspondent in Paris or in Rome." Those glamourous cities seemed so far away. Now suddenly we found ourselves in Rome chatting over lunch with Bob Hecox, NBC's representative.

NBC is doing a particularly outstanding job in its round-the-world news coverage with the recent institution of NBC Radio "News on the Hour," (heard locally over KNBC) as well as the new "hot line" service which links all network affiliates with the major news centers around the world. Now we were privileged to meet two of the men who occupy a very important place in this news coverage. Bob Hecox is exactly as one would imagine a foreign correspondent to be. Tall and debonair, he speaks Italian fluently, and having been a foreign correspondent for 13 years, he is extremely well qualified to head NBC's bureau in Rome. He told us that the studios from where he broadcasts are located only 100 yards from the famous balcony where Mussolini used to stand when he gave a speech. Also a skilled camerman, he covers news for NBC television as well as radio.

Leif Eid, chief correspondent for NBC in Paris also is extremely well qualified for this important position. We interviewed him from the studios from where he broadcasts, located on the world's most famous avenue, the Champs-Elysees, within sight of the "Arc de Triomphe." Poised and distinguished, he told us that he is what is known in French as a "Bonne a Dout Faire" . . . in other words, he covers all types of news from fashion shows to political crises. He also covers news for both television and radio. As we talked, we learned that his life is extremely busy, and he sometimes works seven days a week. He said that many important world figures are either coming to Paris or going through Paris, so he has many interviews.

Our interview over, we climbed in one of Paris's quaint little taxis and motored down the busy Champs-Elysees to our hotel. Now on to New York where we plan to cover some programs . . . and then back over fleecy clouds to our beloved Bay Area.

Dudley Sullivan New Grand Knight Of Marian Council

Marian Council 3773, Knights of Columbus, today announced results of recent balloting for new officers.

The victors: Dudley Sullivan, Grand Knight; Louis Thiebaut, Deputy Grand Knight; Charles Vance, chancellor; Charles Patzel, warden; Henry Wilkinson, recorder; Andy Parodi, treasurer, and John Ford and Frank Berardi, guards.

Members of the order plan to establish a scholarship for a needy high school student in the Bay Area.

Village Play School Sends Nine Tots To Kindergarten

Village Play School of South San Francisco; graduated nine children to kindergarten when Barbara Tamarro, served a chocolate cake, decorated with "Good luck on the road of life," last Thursday, at the school.

At the exercises, Mrs. Kay Seghetti, director, presented gold-sealed diplomas to David Hansen, Gary Wiener, Larry Lepora, Patty Stone, Allan Graham, Craig Morton, John Champagne, Leslie Carr and Skipper Harmon. The diplomas guaranteed "Master of Fun and Friendship" degrees.

Earlier, climaxing the highly-successful year, parents and friends danced to the rhythmic music of Neil and his Islanders at their seventh annual fund-raising dance, in Westlake auditorium.

Harry Seghetti presented the first-prize, a trip to Las Vegas, to Adolph Cecchi, of Millbrae. Second prize, a roto-broiler went to R. W. Dow, 823 Beachwood, Broadmoor, while R. A. Love, 831 Thornhill, Broadmoor, copped the three-speed phonograph.

Male hula dancers Vince Tammaro, Mario Torrigino, Jim Torrigino, Joe Firrola and Stan Polich provided the hilarity for the evening. Mario Torrigino, Sharp Park, because of his personal adaptation and bright tie, carried off the champagne award.

Director Seghetti was not forgotten as mothers of the "graduates" honored her at a luncheon Saturday, at Rickey's Red Chimney in Stonestown.

Village Play School is a parents-cooperative nursery school serving Colma, Westlake, Daly City, South San Francisco, Linda Mar, Sharp Park and Manor Village areas. Information concerning the fall term and car pools from these areas may be obtained by calling PL 6-4690 or FL 5-2874.

Vallejo is 24-½ nautical miles from the San Francisco Ferry Building.

DC Greyhound Official

Gene Bowlin of Daly City, charter supervisor for Greyhound Lines in San Francisco, returned home Monday following two weeks in Los Angeles attending a "Sales Analysis Institute," conducted by the Greyhound Corporation for selected sales and supervisory personnel in the company's Western Greyhound Lines division.

Bowlin reported that the conference was one of six such meetings which have been held this year in various parts of the nation, and dealt with the use of modern sales methods in transportation and public service industries.

Something For Everyone

By The Staff Of The Daly City Public Library

Vacation borrowing is now in effect at the Daly City Public Library and its Westlake-Broadmoor Branch. This extended loan policy permits the borrowing of six books on each library card for the regular two-week loan period, plus one automatic renewal, given the borrower four weeks in which to peruse his books. Either adult or juvenile books may be borrowed on this arrangement, with the exception of new books or titles in great demand.

Borrowers wishing this special loan period must ask for it when they check out their books, however. Just because our readers are going on vacation and are full of vacation thoughts is no reason to expect the library staff to be automatically aware of this fact.

Those who are planning vacations in the western United States may want to prepare their itineraries by consulting such books as HOW TO ENJOY YOUR VACATIONS, by Kent Ruth; PICTORIAL HISTORY OF THE WILD WEST, by James D. Horan; HANDBOOK OF WILDERNESS TRAVEL, by George and Iris Wells; and HIKING, CAMPING AND MOUNTAINEERING, by Roland C. Geist. Interesting historical background on the opening of the old west is to be found in the recent reprinting of Fremont's NARRATIVES OF EXPLORATION AND ADVENTURE. Specific guide-book information is available in the ARIZONA GUIDE, a revision of the volume originally published about twenty years ago by the Federal Writers' Program.

For those who are going to travel extensively in the Indian country, we recommend THE HOPI INDIANS, by Harry C. James, THE NAVAJOES, by Ruth M. Underhill, THE FIGHTING CHEYENNES, by George Bird Grinnell, and A PICTORIAL HISTORY OF THE AMERICAN INDIAN, by Oliver La Farge.

Readers who will stay closer to home are offered such titles as CALIFORNIA LANDMARKS, by James D. McClure, HISTORIC SPOTS IN CALIFORNIA, by Mildred Hoover. PADDLEWHEEL DAYS, by Jerry Macmullen, CHINATOWN QUEST, by Carol Wilson, and Herb Caen's latest guidebook, GUIDE TO SAN FRANCISCO.

All of the above titles are good for arm-chair travellers as well, as are many other titles available at either or both of the public libraries in Daly City: The Daly City Library, 6351 Mission street, or the Westlake - Broadmoor Branch, 34 Park Plaza drive, in Westlake shopping center. Remember, your public library has something for everyone, so try your library first.

On June 4, the three sixth grade classes at Crocker school went to Sigmund Stern Grove for their "Out-Going Picnic." Everyone had a wonderful time. A few of the boys brought their cameras and took pictures. When the pictures were developed they were brought to school and we all had an opportunity to see them.

About three weeks ago we elected new class officers for the last part of the school term. They are: Judy Reginelli, president; Ken Klassen, vice-president; Ron Anderson, secretary; and Karen Bradshaw, treasurer.

On Friday, June 7, there was a school assembly. The Traffic Boys, that is the members of the school's Safety Patrol, were given awards for their very fine service this past year. Inspector Sunderman gave out the awards, Mrs. E. Hedrick, president of Crocker-Pershing PTA, and Mrs. Jones, safety chairman, presented the boys with pins and tokens of appreciation for their good work. In our class Ken Klassen, Ron Anderson, Tito Torres, and Michael Hakensen received Safety Patrol Awards.

SUMMER SWIM PROGRAM PACKS JEFF POOL

Almost 600 Kids Splash Daily Here

Mike Orlich and his staff of instructors are extra busy handling the record turnout for the summer swimming program at Jefferson High gym.

More than 2200 children and adults will have splashed in the pool at vacation's end.

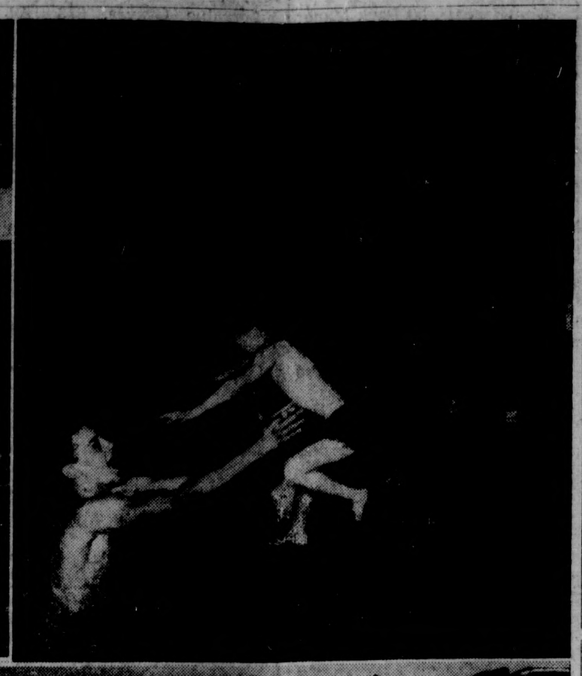
Average daily pool attendance the first three days was 600, Orlich beamed. During the first two weeks, 389 of the 405 registered for the first classes were enjoying the worthwhile instruction.

Orlich reports that his staff handles about 390 individuals in the morning, and 130 in both the afternoon and evening sessions.

Buses from the Coastside arrive regularly with water enthusiasts. Brisbaners invade the pool on Saturdays.

Names of class "graduates" will appear periodicially in THE RECORD.

Persons wishing information on the Jeff swim program are encouraged to call Orlich at the gym office, PL 5-2511.



MORE than 2100 children and adults opened splashing in the annual summer swim program at Jefferson High last week under the supervision of Mike Orlich and his staff of highly qualified instructors. These shots from last year show phases of the instruction. Orlich has classes booked to overflow, with a few more planned. Lessons run from 8:30 to 1:30, followed by recreational swimming from 2:30 to 4:20 and 7:30 to 9:20 in the evening. Pool is closed on Sundays. Adult swimming lessons are set on Wednesday evenings from 6:30 to 7:30. Certificates on all levels go to the participants when the giant program ends August 23.

VENTURI GETS TIE FOR 7TH IN U.S. OPEN

Ken Venturi, Daly City's traveling car salesman, wound up with a 286 tally and a tie for seventh place Saturday in the U. S. Open Golf Tournament at Toledo, Ohio.

The Westlaker, seldom at home these days, fired a 71 on the final round in his first pay-for-play appearance. His scores in the four-day meet were 69-71-75-71.

Venturi's effort was another step forward among the nation's top pros. Only 25, he is the country's outstanding young linksman.

Ken's temper aroused the golfing world in 1956 when he made a few off-the-cuff statements that shocked the oldtimers. But the localite appears to have settled down and his game is much stronger.

Dick Mayer, 34, downed Dr. Cary Middlecoff, 36, for the Open title in a tense playoff. The victory made Mayer $7200 richer. Venturi, too, pocketed a little spending money.

BYA Nine Blanks Machinists, 5-0

Broadmoor Youth Association's Class C baseballers opened their season Sunday with a 5-0 win over the Machinists at Marchbanks park.

Bob Goodwin, who scattered four hits, got the mound victory. He was relieved by Ross Holmgren, making his hill debut, who hurled hitless ball.

Skip Crudo was top performer, smashing a bases-loaded triple and stealing home.

Each team collected but four hits. Too many free passes ruined the Machinists.

Everett Heick and Art Dougherty manage the BYA nine. Art Townsend skippers the machinists.

DC Drug Nine Nudges Milano, Ties Portolans

Three timely double plays, combined with Terry Christman's five—hit pitching, gave the Daly City Drugs a 2-1 win over Milano Inn at Marchbanks on Saturday. Billy Ludwigsen toiled 10 innings at the same diamond Sunday, but had to settle for a 1-1 tie with the Portola Braves.

Georgis Claus and Mike Rovai each hit two for three Saturday. Claus collected a double, while Barry Krohn, Bruce Hix, Christman and Bill Hynes each banged a hit.

Milano Inn got a run in the fourth when Eddie Barazoto was safe on an error, stole second and was brought home on a long single by Don Kunkle. Milano threatened in the second and fourth but double plays saved the day. Mike Rovai had an unassited DP in the first, catching a fly and tagging a runner.

Top Fielding

Mike also started the twin killing in the second, shooting to Hix who relayed to Krohn at first. The fifth inning "saver" was after a strike out. Hynes fired to Claus to catch an attempted steal at third. The Creighton - Krohn kids scored in the first when Barry Krohn singled, then stole second and came home on the overthrow. They picked up the clincher the last of the seventh with hits by Hix, Claus and Christman, then Ernie Alvarez walked O'Leary to score Hix.

Sunday's game saw Billy Ludwigsen scattering eight hits and walking only two. Portola bunched three hits in the first to score their only run. Ludwigsen walked Johnny Rapp after one out in the tenth, but a sharp twin-killing, O'Leary to Hix and Krohn, set down the side.

Johnny Rapp, Portola ace, allowed only one hit until the seventh, a double by Mike O'Leary who was thrown out trying to stretch it to three. He retired the side in order in all but the seventh, ninth and tenth frames.

The Drug lads picked up the deadlocking run in the seventh when O'Leary tripled, and while Hynes stood well back in the box, O'Leary stole home on Rapp's wind-up. Portola had eight hits and Daly City posted five. The two teams meet again during league play which starts Saturday.

Daly City Drugs meet South-Sunset at West-Sunset Field this Saturday, then return to Marchbanks on Sunday.

Colma Center Launches Summer Rec Activities

By Gwin Mitchell

Monday was the start of a new summer program at the Colma community center for children in the Colma area, a program with specialties not often included in plans for summer recreation.

Headed by Mrs. M. Pauline Brown, the center's board of directors worked out a 10-week Monday through Friday series for children from 9 to 14, which will be conducted entirely by volunteer instructors and helpers.

Some of the projects planned are mounting butterflies, making animals of string or worsted, outdoor games, ping pong, making jewelry, home gardening, nature studies and hikes, reading and writing stories and other activities. On Friday, June 28, Mrs. Muriel Vint, JESD music coordinator, will direct a period of group singing of campfire songs, and a reading club room will be available for use each afternoon.

The Staff

Instructors who have volunteered their services are Mrs. William Bradshaw, Mrs. William Chessman, Mrs. Ruth Fisher, Mrs. Jack Jaymott, Mrs. Earl Roylance, Mrs. Frank Archini, Mrs. M. F. Schuster, Mrs. John Boyle, Mrs. Angelo Rossi and Mrs. M. Pauline Brown. Also assisting in the library will be senior Girl Scouts.

The program, as described by Mrs. Brown, will be in the nature of an experiment to see if recreation needs of the community's children can be met in this way, and if the 10-week summer plan can be extended to a permanent after-school program. Basic in the planning behind it is the anti-delinquency factor, and the reasoning that a child with definite plans for his free time can be helped to use that time towards his development as a good citizen.

Hours and activities have been planned completely up to July 4, and outlined for the weeks following. More volunteer instructors and helpers are needed, and those interested in helping should call Mrs. Brown at PL 5-6246 between 8 and 10 a.m. She cannot be reached at PL 5-7961, as published in the recently distributed all-communities recreation booklet.

Questionnaires

Ideas for and about the program were stimulated by the answers to questionnaires sent home with pupils in the Thornton, Jefferson elementary, and Colma schools. These questionnaires were distributed with the cooperation of the Colma and Hillside PTAs, and interest of the parents and teachers in the project was sparked by the enthusiasm of Mrs. Hazel Colwell, principal of Thornton school, and Miss Marie Tranor, principal of Jefferson elementary school.

The Jefferson Elementary School District has assisted by lending needed furniture and equipment.

Cop League Board Needs Public Help

Eighteen board members of the newly-formed Daly City Police Athletic League attended Saturday's second meeting of the group to speed organizational plans.

Explaining that the objectives of the DCPAL should be "to bring the juvenile and policeman into close friendship," was William Carroza, Peninsulan who for 10 years was an active member of the New York City Police Athletic League.

Need Committees

Carroza suggested that committees be established for the individual sports activities. He also urged year-round community fund-raising projects to support the program. These would include free sales by merchants at Christmas, dances, bazaars and raffles.

Charter for the DCPAL is being drafted by Frank Blum, city attorney and a board member. He will submit this soon to the state for final adoption.

Insurance, a key part of the program for Daly City youth in the DCPAL operation, also was discussed. Officer John Coleman, DCPAL president, said he would have an insurance agent at the next board session, probably in about two weeks.

Ask Donations

Joseph Lewkowitz, school trustee, urged that a post office box be arranged for immediate contributions for the DCPAL. This will be delayed until the group settles the matter of bonding a treasurer.

"We'll need the entire community behind us," Coleman said. "Our funds and available supervisory personnel are limited, so we're asking monetary support from residents and volunteers to help us run these activities."

Persons who'd like to give the DCPAL a helping hand should call Coleman, PL 5-0850 or PL 5-6075.

On the board of directors are leading civic, church and school leaders.

Jeff High Catcher Makes Europe Trip

Bill Strassburger, Jeff High's All-North PAL catcher from Brisbane, is en route to a European vacation this week with his family.

A unanimous league selection, Bill will enter University of California this fall to resume his baseball career under George Wolfman.

The Golden Bears, incidentally, recently won the U.S. collegiate baseball championship.

Bill's father was one of Jefferson's first outstanding pitchers, leading the Peninsula in strikeouts during his three years with the Indian varsity.

Professional Jinx Hits Rec Man Leibe

Bob Leibe, busy city recreation supervisor and right-hand man to Dee Van Nest, city recreation director, finally has suffered the consequences of his profession.

Couple of weeks ago in San Bruno, the San Francisco State product fractured his throwing arm in a softball game.

Bob is going full speed on his job, although the boys in the department are calling him "lefty." The cast should come off in about two weeks.

FOR BOYS 10 TO 15

Junior Baseball School Slated For Marchbanks

All boys 10 to 15 years of age are invited to attend the Daly City Baseball School, Tuesdays through Fridays, 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. at Marchbanks Park. Sign-ups for the school will begin at 9 a.m. Tuesday, July 2, at the ball diamond.

Instruction will cover fielding, throwing, hitting, baserunning, position play, rules, and strategy of the national pastime.

Rich Warne, recreation leader, will coach and handle all phases of the Junior Baseball program. Warne played baseball for two years at San Francisco State, and last year coached the State Junior Varsity team, giving it its first winning season in many years. Prior to his San Francisco State experience, Warne played semi-pro ball in the Middle West.

Boys who want to participate in the Junior Baseball instruction should report to the Marchbanks ball diamond on July 2. They are requested to bring their own gloves. Bats and balls will be furnished.

Taking a vacation trip soon? When you have your car checked be sure you include an inspection of the lights—headlights, tail-lights, license plate light, stoplight, and turn signal lights. It's important to have good illumination when you drive around town, says the California State Automobile Association, but out on the highway it's a matter of life and death.
